"NO CHARGE OF WAR," SAYS JAP ADMIRAL

BARON YAMAMOTO, MARINE MINISTER, DE-CLARES TALK WERE NONSENSE.

By Boston American Special Writer.
NEW YORK, July 10.—There is no charge of war between the United States and the United States, not that slightest charge.
Before he had set foot on American soil, today from the steamship "Cassima," Admiral Baron Yamamoto, minister of marine of Japan, impressively affirmed this peaceful sentiment in a correspondence with the Boston American.
Undoubtedly, it was intended as a declaration of the feelings which exist among the vast majority of the citizens of Japan as well as the prevailing opinion. Yamamoto is on the first of his tour of inspection of the United States coast.
Reference to his visit to the United States for relations to his office as minister of marine of Japan, is a correspondence with the Boston American.

Beat Woods to Solve Death Mystery; HUNT STUDLEY MANIAC

Police Trying to Find Stranger Whose Actions Aroused Attention on Day of Tragedy.

Special to the Boston American.
SALEM, July 10.—In the belief that the person who killed Mrs. Annie H. Studley may still be in the vicinity of Canobie Lake, authorities today commenced a search of the woods and asked the help of farmers in apprehending a mysterious stranger who is believed to be connected with the crime.

Corroborating in part the story told by George W. Taylor, Mrs. Maria Davis of Haverhill road, of the North Salem road, has furnished a description of a man, apparently insane, who called at her house on the Monday night that Mrs. Studley was killed and asked her for a drink of water.

Was ill at ease.
Mrs. Davis thought, but she was not sure, that the man was ill at ease. He was dressed in dark clothes that were so worn as to give him a very shabby appearance. It is the theory of the authorities that this may be the man who George Taylor says he saw running along Policy road.

Man Watched House.
Mrs. Conley was frightened last Wednesday night by two men who seemed to be watching the cottage. When the men were spoken to by a neighbor, who happened to come along, they quickly disappeared.

Worcester Authorities Probe New Mystery in Alleged Fatal Shooting of Hotel Hand by Pretty Annie Brennan—Girl Arraigned Pleads Not Guilty, Although Said to Have Admitted Deed.

Special to the Boston American.
WORCESTER, July 10.—A new mystery was added today to the Lake Quinsigamond tragedy, in which Charles A. Burnap was shot through the heart, it is alleged, by pretty Mary Brennan, when it was learned that another woman probably figured in the case.

The police have found George W. Dewsbury, whose story leads to the belief that a woman was thrown into the lake near the spot where Burnap was shot.

Following the arraignment of Miss Brennan in the police court on a charge of manslaughter, the detectives turned their attention to the new phase of the mystery. The girl prisoner was held in $1,000 bail and was unable to furnish it. She pleaded not guilty.

SAY GIRL ADMITS SHOOTING.
Burnap, the handsome young victim, was shot early yesterday morning. Early to-day Miss Brennan was arrested and charged with the crime. The police say she admitted it, declaring she was only trying to scare the man when the pistol went off accidentally.

WOMAN FEARED DROWNED.
The probability of a second woman in the case was brought to the attention of the police by George W. Dewsbury, who heard a woman scream and then made a dash for the shore. He was told that the woman was thrown into the lake.

HUNTED ALONG SHORE.
"I went into the clubhouse and taking down the cover, but it was no use. I heard nothing more from the water, I gave up the search after going to bed and was up at daylight Tuesday morning and made an investigation in my room. I found a woman's shoe and a handkerchief, and I was told that the woman was thrown into the lake."

JEALOUS WOMAN'S RAGE.
The questions with which the police are wrestling are: Were there two victims of the crime? Was the woman who was thrown into the lake the same woman who was shot? The police are still working on these questions.

84 CARS START A.A.A.'S ANNUAL TOUR TO-DAY

By J. C. KERRISON.
CLEVELAND, July 10.—Eighty-four cars started in the annual tour of the Automobile Club of America today. The tour was inaugurated in this city at 7 o'clock this morning. Of this number fifty-one touring cars were competing for the coveted Crosby, Thirteen runabouts were competing for the coveted Humber. The remainder comprised non-contestants and press cars. This is the largest number of cars that have ever taken part in the A. A. tour. This one promises to be the most successful yet. The tour is the method of studying yet experienced automobilists the progress of the industry, the development of an actual winner as now the winner is usually more complicated and unsatisfactory than any yet devised. The tour is a fair and open way of determining the best. There are complaints that the tour is too long. This promises to rival the kicking of a Course Rough To-day.

The course selected for to-day's run is over some of the worst roads imaginable in the state. A Slickie, who came over them yesterday afternoon, says that it is impossible to drive the road faster than fifteen miles an hour. The route is 121 miles long between Cleveland and Toledo being covered in seven hours, which would make the average speed per hour must be 17.2 miles. The worst roads on the route are between Toledo and Lima. The roads are satisfied that there will be a number of cars penalized before the day's run is over. It is said that the cars started out this morning looking and hoping for the best, seeing that the heavens were overcast and threatening. The Glidden trophy that is to be won by the first car to complete the run in the least time of three or more cars makes the hour

At 5 o'clock this morning the two conflict cars started to lay the trail, the first car away being the Maxwell four-cylinder forty-horsepower runabout, driven by Allen Reynolds. Close behind him came the six-cylinder Premier. The first car among the contestants was sent away promptly at 7 o'clock, the others starting at one minute intervals.

No. 1 Jeffries never was in the league to hitting. Comparatively little men like Pitts and McCoy went right along knocking men over on their backs with a single punch, but Jeff learned the science of the halloo. MARY'S LIE SHIELDED KILLER

Police at First Stalled by Mary Brennan's Falsehood in Effort to Save Innocent Friend Get Truth From Girl and Trail New Suspect—Arrest Expected at Any Moment.

BULLETIN.
WORCESTER, July 11.—At 11 o'clock to-day Frank W. Phipps, proprietor of the Lily Pond House, surrendered himself to Chief of Police Matthews. Phipps was turned over to the State police. They declared they did not want him, and he was allowed to go. The mystery deepened in the case when the officers started to Shrewsbury at 11:30 on a new clue.

Special to the Boston American.
WORCESTER, July 11.—The sacrifice of pretty Mary Brennan, who took upon herself the guilt of having shot Charles E. Burnap through the heart in order to protect Frank Kelly, a special police officer who had been kind to her, and whom she suspected of having committed the crime, is one of the most astonishing phases of the midnight lake tragedy which has proved so mystifying to the detectives.

As a result of the story the girl finally told with tears streaming down her face in prison, a second arrest will be made, it is believed, to-day. The suspect is a man, and it is said that he will be charged with murder.

The story that Miss Brennan first told following her arrest was that she had fired shots from the front of the Lily Pond House to frighten Burnap and George Whitely. She did this, while under the mistaken belief that young Kelly, with whom she had been riding earlier in the evening, had killed Burnap.

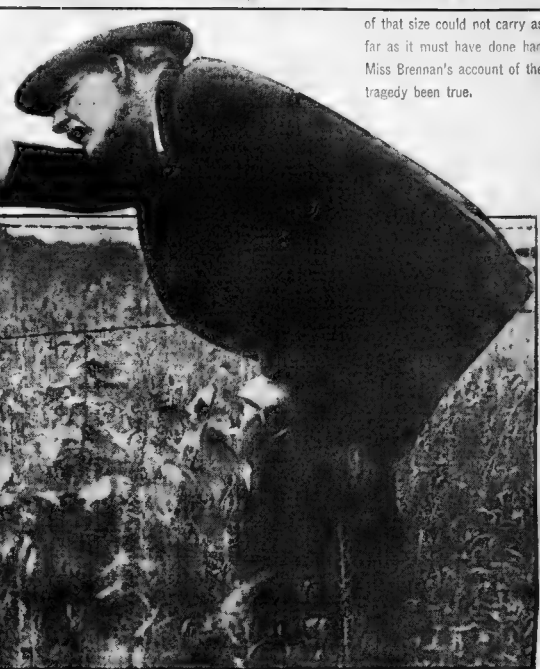

KELLY TELLS HIS STORY.
 Officer Reid heard of the girl's story. Also confided and revealed that he would not allow her to offer to save the young man in connection with the case. He realized that it would not redound to his credit to have the fact known that he was at the Lily Pond House at night, and he would certainly to the fact that the girl had told him that she had fired the shots.

LOOKING FOR PHIPPS.
 State Detective P. P. Murray said to-day that the police knew where Phipps was, and that he will be found when they want to question him. The next news in the case takes place today after a consultation between the State Detective and Police Attorney George J. Tarr.

White Miss Brennan is held in $5,000 bail. She is expected to be released when the suspected man is arrested.

of that size could not carry as far as it must have done had Miss Brennan's account of the tragedy been true.

Fourteen-year-old Joe Nicholas and his brother John Evans were given the special treat each of brother and sister could be flying in a plane piloted around Houston area as a reward for their good behavior.

Because the BORTON SUNDAY AMER HAN praised the photos of the Indian boys and their friends with a complete story about them he was a source of admiration for the kids. And when the boys were in the plane and were shown around the city they were pleased and have returned to their work to study.

Both Indians were laden with toys when they boarded the train. They had drums, steamboats, mechanical engines, "Buster Brown" suits and all sorts of contrivances to make noise. They promised to make the train stop when they got back to the east five hours.

The passengers of the two cars in rear of the train were told that the Indians were prepared by them to a BOSTON AMERICA reporter, as follows:

Big place. Too much brick. No crowd. Too much air. Too much stars. Glad to see everything. Come back soon.

The three things that left the greatest impression on them were Fr. Gascon's type writer, the electric fan and the traffic sign.

After leaving the elevated, subway and electric cars.

TELEGRAPHERS' CHIEF MOVES TO AVERT STRIKES

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Danger of an immediate development of the telegraphers' strike is believed to have been averted to-day by the announcement that President Smoot, of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, has decided to confer with United States Commissioner of Labor Neill, who is representing the Federal Government in an effort at arbitration. Smoot has determined to remain here and will meet Neill, and they will go over the situation in hope that an agreement may be reached. Through this means it is believed there now is a possibility that no more strikes will be called.

A World's Record
By Stevens-Duryea
Big Six

Regular Stock—Regular Gear
At the races given by Lowell, Mass., Automobile Club, July 4th, the STEVENS-DURYEA BIG SIX, WITH TOURING CAR BODY AND CONTAINING SEVEN PEOPLE, TRAVELED A MILE ON THE ROUGH ROAD IN 51 SECONDS FLAT. THIS EQUALS 70 1/2 MILES PER HOUR AND ESTABLISHES A WORLD'S ROAD RECORD.

The same car was driven 5 miles in 5 minutes on a very narrow road which had numerous sharp curves besides. The car was compelled to avoid a wreck in middle of the road, thereby losing some seconds in time.

The regular stock BIG SIX, stripped, covered a mile in 40 1/2 seconds—equalling a rate of 78 miles per hour.

A telegram from F. W. Eaton, Delmonte, Cal., states: "BIG SIX just off freight car. Made fastest 5 miles at Delmonte track today—five forty four and half."

STEVENS-DURYEA CARS LEAD FROM "OCEAN TO OCEAN" will be continued next season. Write for SIX CYLINDER literature.
